Let me tell you, perhaps, of my “Sempai a year younger.”

Once Senju Murasame was for Izumi Masamune natural enemy.

It is similar to my nickname, writing style and ability, but the sale of sixty times higher. And it is less than years, so it is the title of the young writer.

Monster, whose total sales exceeded ten million.

Early in his career, “Izumi Masamune” constantly under a barrage of comparisons with “him” criticism … What is left trauma, many ideas have been rejected, and the specter of job loss hanging over me all the time.

To my shame, there were moments when I visited thought “Murasame must die”, “ah, if it was not,” and the like.

But a few days ago, I first met with the Murasame-Senpai, talked with him and argued; however, postpone it for another time, otherwise my story terribly delayed. I can only say that if our relationship with him underwent a sharp change.

My “natural enemy”, Senpai a year younger … Sanju Murasame appeared fourteen girl.

And if you ask me again, what kind of person Murasame-senpai, I found it difficult to answer.

Here’s an example: recently we had been in the family restaurant.

– Murasame-senpai, what will you order? – I tried to talk to the girl sitting in front of a kimono, but …

She did not answer at all. Only he paused, straightened and frowned staring into space.

– Senpai? Hey, sempai-ah? – I shook his hand in front of her face. There was no answer. Though his eyes were open, she did not even blink. Fine face pale … if she was asked wax doll? Yeah, like, what strange imagination.

– Emergency medical …

– Yes!

– Va-a!

Only I thought that in her eyes lit flame, she suddenly screamed. I was so scared that he almost fell. Have passed from the “regime of silence” to the heavy traffic she looked around, she turned her head and saw me.

– Hmm? Masamune-kun? What’s wrong?

– This is my question. What happened? What makes you so suddenly cried?

– Oh, I thought Masamune-kun! – She said hastily. – I’ll kill the love!

– You’re too happy talking about it, Senpai!

Circle began whispering.

– Horror, kill … More must be set off from the love ..?

Well you see, customers from the neighboring tables surprise staring at us!

Senpai shook her head.

– Like what? On the action movie, which I'm writing, is it not clear?

– Yes, I understand! Heroine! Beloved protagonist! That's just for others it differently sounded!

– Stop it! I'm immersed in the thought!

No, actually, I'm trying to stop your antics …

Senpai's face contorted rage.

– Hmm … If so, then there is nothing left but to kill! And how can more severely .. So I want to ask your advice as an expert in arms: it is used to cut the body into eight parts ? Izumi-sensei!

– I beg you, stop! You know, I live not far ?!

Do not go.

I thought to show you the beauty of Sempai, but highlighted another side of her.

So, let's see … Good to Senpai … well … hmm …

Beauty, good character, she really goes kimono, gleaming white skin, erotic bend the neck … And surprisingly slim, but the chest at the same time … that is, the appearance of the lost.

Hearing "Onii-san – a pervert" from an imaginary little sister, I decided to list something else.

Unusually masterfully creates history … And yet, I have already said.

Then this …

Sanju Murasame is very well known.

Once there was such.

However, Senpai, we were watching TV in the living room in my house.

– Senpai like you this movie?

– Normal.

– Clear. And just graduated magical girl?

– Okay, perhaps.

– I see … And who was walking in front of him tokusatsu [2] ?

– Remove nearby.

A little clarification.

Murasame-Sempai suffering that except for some books to be purchased in stores, does not find anything more interesting.

When I first heard about it, I could not help thinking:

What do you mean “save”? For the author, being exposed to both good and not so influenced by other works, learning from them, growing on them. Of course, influenced by a favorite work.

And hardly think that senpai, writing such interesting books, is affected only a few exceptions.

But when I asked her herself, she said this:

– Do not say that they are absolutely not interested. And then, “like” and “whether it is possible from these studies to learn something” – are two different things.

That is, she learns more and those works that are not interesting.

I highly admired, I would not have prevented this ability.

However, to be honest, I was a little eats a kind of envy. To hell with them, with anime and film, just sometimes it is turned off before the screen, so that’s her bad habit.

As soon as it comes to the idea of the novel, everything is just like in a restaurant recently. And if so, then without a doubt, the plot of the film immediately flies out of her head.

Because it is quite obvious that Murasame Senju no luck with movies.

– If so, Senpai, how about to watch a movie at home? I have all sorts of pretty blue-vian Jews.

– Unless you’re watching, sitting next to me.

However, I do not particularly understand the meaning of the added Sempai “conditions”.

But in general, here’s how it happened.

We had all this time sat side by side on the couch, watching various works.

However, as you can see, the response is extremely weak Senpai. So after a few hours I gave up watching:

– No, it will not work. But I found them interesting.

– No you are not right. Only that was not a bad thing.

– True?

I wonder what anime was honored by Sempai of the word “good”?

– Which?

– What is now broadcast on TV – she casually pointed at the TV. I followed her hand.

– … – Wiping his eyes checked again. There is no doubt … Well, right now I play back a recorded video anime, which I showed her. And this anime …

– Yeah, pretty good. I did not think that the product, which I say is right now. Dont know. I would like to read ranobe-source. Who is author?

– You’re an author, you are.

– “Tyavtor” and the name “You”?

– Author of the original anime is YOU, Senpai!

– Me? – Senpai Blinked.

It's … it's … really you, pretends not to boast ?!

Seriously she says ?! But who would believe something ?!

However, I too was surprised at first … after all it is, even though the author, until recently, did not know the names of the books written by her .

– Exactly! "Legend of the magic blade!" It is in fact just been published ?! Surely you do not remember the name ?!

– "The Magic Blade"? This anime? Hmm, no doubt, they are similar … but the story is different. As written by me was wrong.

– Yes, because you have not watched it!

Though based on the anime Murasame Senju, there are slight differences in the complication, the nature of the characters, the development of key points …

All this together was "the product of a different, not like in the original." Reader Reviews have been overwhelmingly negative.

Well, if it's not unusual adaptations.

Although the author does not hurt to enforce the outline of the original …

No, it is because it author, has become a little different work is not identified as his work … I guess.

"Original – quite different" … they just rape plot of the book, and it is not an exaggeration.

She seems really did not know about it.

"Eh? It? My "- that's how it is so.

And that she now take?

How to react Murasame-Sempai, first learned that doing something different from her books? .. Present scary.

Covered with ice and then I looked at her face.

– Um, so, therefore, how to … – she reached out with his head.

Oh, no words … Apparently, she does not care.

– Ensure, so … No, I'm certainly not going to do something that will reduce the time allotted for writing books.

– Well, if you say so …

– Yes. But still … "Magic Sword" was the anime, it is now broadcast?

– It's over. This post – I answered with a sigh.

However disappointed her fans to hear it …

Sanjay Murasame-Sempai is that it, in addition to writing books, almost nothing interesting.

Her dream – to write the most interesting story in the world. So it is not surprising that with the adaptations she's right. However, my dream is the same.

And at the end of the first arch seiyuu main character he said: "The game" Legend of the magic sword "for PS3, made under the guidance of the writer, is already on sale! Be sure to buy it! ".

– Liars! – I did not hold back from remarks to advertising.

Yeah. Although she is known for, but maybe not so influential?

Hmm … Something did not manage to create a good impression about Senpai. In general, every time I meet her, constantly let go of snide remarks … No, no. Still, it should not be the case. Remember!

Similarly, he recalled in September.

Summer holidays are over, it was joyous after "the date of sale of new work Izumi Masamune …"

On the day she is "some reason" came to my house with Elf, "to see Eromanga-sensei."

About "some reason" I can not tell here. Even if you can guess it, I will be grateful, if you do not ask.

Well, leave it … I was sitting in the living room Senpai. Elf, incidentally, has not yet come.

– Senpai, you wait until the living room?

– Of course, I do not mind. Do not worry. If I do not bother, then a few hours here, I will write the story. If an evil person will appear, notify.

She sat down and immediately pulled out a notebook and pencil.

By the way, the evil person she calls living next door to a beautiful woman-writer, Yamada Sensei Elf. As the relationship they have not, and she came up with the nickname Elf.

– Do not be so speak about the guests … Since this possibility has stood out, why not talk to her? – When I sat down next to her offered it, Senpai closed with cotton pad.

– If so says my favorite Masamune-kun, you have to. You – the only thing that me more books.

– L … favorite … – I thought of the ears torn pair. Surely I'm blushing like in some romantic comedy. When this right claim would not even blush.

And then…

Wh-what's the phrase for this, like the pages of a romance novel! Extremely confusing …

– And, well … Senpai? – Finally looked at her face, I noticed that she culprit, Senpai, too, blushed to the ears.Yes, and she covered her face with her hands, wincing with embarrassment.

– Very well he said, and now embarrassed!

– D-give me ten seconds …

Senpai, slightly poduspokoivshis, took a deep breath. After that, he returned to his normal state, she asked:

– So, what I say to her, kohai?

– Too late to try to pretend to be nonchalant, Senpai – apparently, it offers to pretend I did not see her embarrassment.

– Since we're all writers, the first common theme that comes to mind is the creation of novels – with a straight face she continued pretense.

It would be desirable, of course, in response to mock, but I do not think that Koch should do so with senpai.Still doubting, I replied:

– By the way, in that book that you write, Sempai, "Ghost Sword" … You said the heroine dies in the next volume, but then after that will go to the event? – The issue of the ma-a-vermillion such mockery.

But…

– Perhaps through that resurrected?

– Do not pull the ears such pianos!

You're an author, it might be worth a little more attentive to the readers!

Although it is useless to explain …

After all, potential reader until I, others never saw.

– Interested? Well, you can tell … The protagonist slept hidden power, that it will revive the heroine and from death.

I told you not to use such obvious piano, but it does not seem to listen.

But to pin it I just could not, because it is so rejuvenated, talking about their work. So I asked with a smile:

– So this force is different from those already used?

– No, before that he used only a part of his "true power". And the plan, with its awakening of the protagonist will be the strong character of the work.

– "The Awakening of a Hero", then … Standard course. And how many volumes planned out?

– One hundred volumes.

– A hundred?!

She seriously, what? For ranobe hundred volumes – too.

– By the way, Senpai … as to what volume laid out a continuation?

– There are ideas to dvuhsotpyatidesyatogo volume.

– Then it will be held until the completion of approximately sixty years.

Most readers are already waiting for the end of the die. So I would have to try to live a little longer.

– And the last that I intend to present to her granddaughter.

– This is … a delightful dream.

I'm serious. As far as I know her, she's hardly joking.

Murasame-Sempai, giggle, smiled sweetly.

– Thank you, it is because of you.

– A? In what sense?

– Hehe, do not pay attention, it's me about his. – She shrugged, moving away from the issue. Like making it clear that this topic is a taboo.

– I understand that you want to continue to "Ghost Sword", but in fact … you and other works you write?

– Yes, I am going. Not only martial novels, now I think to try other genres. For example … a love comedy.

– By the way, Senpai, you're recently wrote already like.

– Um … Yeah, – muffled nodded Murasame-senpai. The cause of her embarrassment in the fact that the story as the models she and I were taken. In fact, it was more than a love letter … stostranichnoe Her confession to me.

And this story … we are not here touch upon.

I went through the confusion:

– And what were you the first time to write in this genre?

– Hard to love … because of that, and I want to try more, – he said with a smile Murasame-senpai.

Like rejoicing that everything it did not work out as expected.

– You know, kohai … Until then, I never thought about the appeal of love. I have not found among manga, books, movies and anime romantic genre single that would touched the soul.

I listened in silence.

– I could not empathize with any single character. Falling in love and serious love, like or hate … I was not hurt. It does not cause a drop of interest. I could not share the feelings with lovers. Apparently, I just lacked the sensation to enjoy the love. That's why, thinking that love is boring … I'm mad at you, love writing comedy.

And with a sigh, she continued:

– Masamune-kun, love – is interesting.

And before that, because the others are saying.

– Think only of a loved one, worried … heart flutters … these feelings … I'm well aware.

– Senpai?

I wanted to say more, but her smile was too entailing, so that no love story could not describe.

– Now I'm sure I could write an interesting romantic story … You've read it someday?

– Yes, by all means read it – I said with all my heart.

Probably written story it will incredibly beautiful.

Fast forward to the subsequent events a little later …

After that, when we along with the latecomer Elf met Eromanga-sensei, she somehow seemed very unhappy.Though her face was hidden behind a mask of it and smelled the black energy.

Idiot-sister, his arms crossed, looked at the beautiful women and said:

– Today we will play in the offensive twister.

In the house blew desperate cry Murasame-sempai, due to “certain reasons” forced to submit unconditionally Eromanga-Sensei.
